America's Fiscal Tsunami

Projected outlays for Social Security, Medicare, and Medicaid outstrip the programs' revenues sooner than the trust funds reflect and will occur at a very inconvenient time (National Debt, USMC pressures, etc.)
(By calendar year, as a percentage of

USMC pressures include:

Modernization
Aging equipment
Aging facilities
Increased QOL
GWOT and Reset
202K

(These pressures occur concurrently with challenge at left)

Absent action under current law deficits skyrocket to unprecedented levels

Entitlements will crowd out everything else and collide with historical long-term level of taxes

Even eliminating defense won't solve the problem without tackling entitlements.

Total Federal Spending and Tax Revenue as a Percentage of GDP

Tax Burden Is Rising to Highest Level in History

Under current law, tax revenues are expected to leap to 25.5 percent of the economy by 2082. Extending the tax cuts would shave only about 1 percentage point off of this burden. AMT and real bracket creep are the biggest drivers of this rising tax burden.

Current Situation

- Entitlements are automatically escalating and squeezing all discretionary spending, particularly national security
- Tax burden is rising to historical high
- Owners of U.S. debt are, increasingly, off-shore
- Dramatic shift in federal spending towards elderly and health care
- Consequences of inaction are distant, uncertain, and diffuse
- Solutions are painful, immediate, and specific
 - Raise Taxes
 - Cut entitlement benefits
 - Reduce discretionary programs (DoD is largest)

Preparing the Corps

- We can't really solve the fiscal tsunami
 - All 13 appropriations can be zero and still not fix the gap between total revenue & entitlement expenditure
- But we can help prepare the Marine Corps by:
 - Having well documented requirements for resources
 - Strong controls on spending (we keep track of our $20B+)
 - Improving our processes to get the biggest bang for the buck
 - Embrace Continuous Process Improvement (CPI)

We Cannot Evacuate But We Can Prepare for the Fiscal Tsunami

Disciplined Execution
Strong controls to keep track of what we've got.

Disciplined CPI
*Improved effectiveness.
Reduced waste.*

What is CPI?

- A way to strengthen warfighting capability and combat readiness by using proven process improvement methodologies.
- The three primary tools are:
 - Six Sigma: Focuses on reducing variation and increasing quality/reliability
 - Lean: Focuses on reducing process waste
 - Theory of Constraints (TOC): Focuses on identifying and eliminating constraints in a process

USMC CPI Goals

- Focus (primarily) on improving combat readiness and warfighting capability rather than cost reduction
- Continuously improve support processes by applying CPI/LSS process improvement tools
- Increase speed of decisions, work, transactions, and paperwork; reduce overhead; improve safety
- Institutionalize CPI by creating an organizational capability and a culture of continuous improvement

Key Elements of CPI

- Leadership support, commitment, and involvement
- Organizational capability
 - Building capability to help ourselves
 - Not having outside agents “do something to, or for, us”
- Effective program infrastructure
 - Program Office,
 - Standard Tools
 - Training the “right people”
- Strategically aligned CPI projects focused on readiness
- Shared information and knowledge
 - Continuous Process Improvement System (CPIMS)
- Benefits retained by participating organizations

CPI Training Levels

- Level I CPI (aka Green Belt).
 - 40 Hours training
 - Works CPI as part of normal duties.
 - Duties: Apply CPI methodologies to improve daily work.
- Level II CPI (aka Black Belt).
 - 160 hours training
 - Primarily full time.
 - Duties: Provide expertise to CPI projects. Teach and coach part time Level I (Green Belts) personnel.
- Level III CPI (aka Master Black Belt).
 - Additional training.
 - Full time.
 - Duties: Provide expertise to highly complex CPI projects. Teach and coach Level II (Black Belts) personnel. Develop curriculum, methods, standards. Help replicate projects.

CPI Benefits

- Type 1 Benefits
 - Hard Dollar Savings (Retained by the Organization)
 - Examples: Reduced contract cost, whole man-year eliminated
- Type 2 Benefits
 - Soft Savings
 - Examples: Cost avoidance, partial man-year saved
- Type 3 Benefits
 - Other benefits
 - Examples: Increased customer satisfaction, improved workplace safety, and quality of life

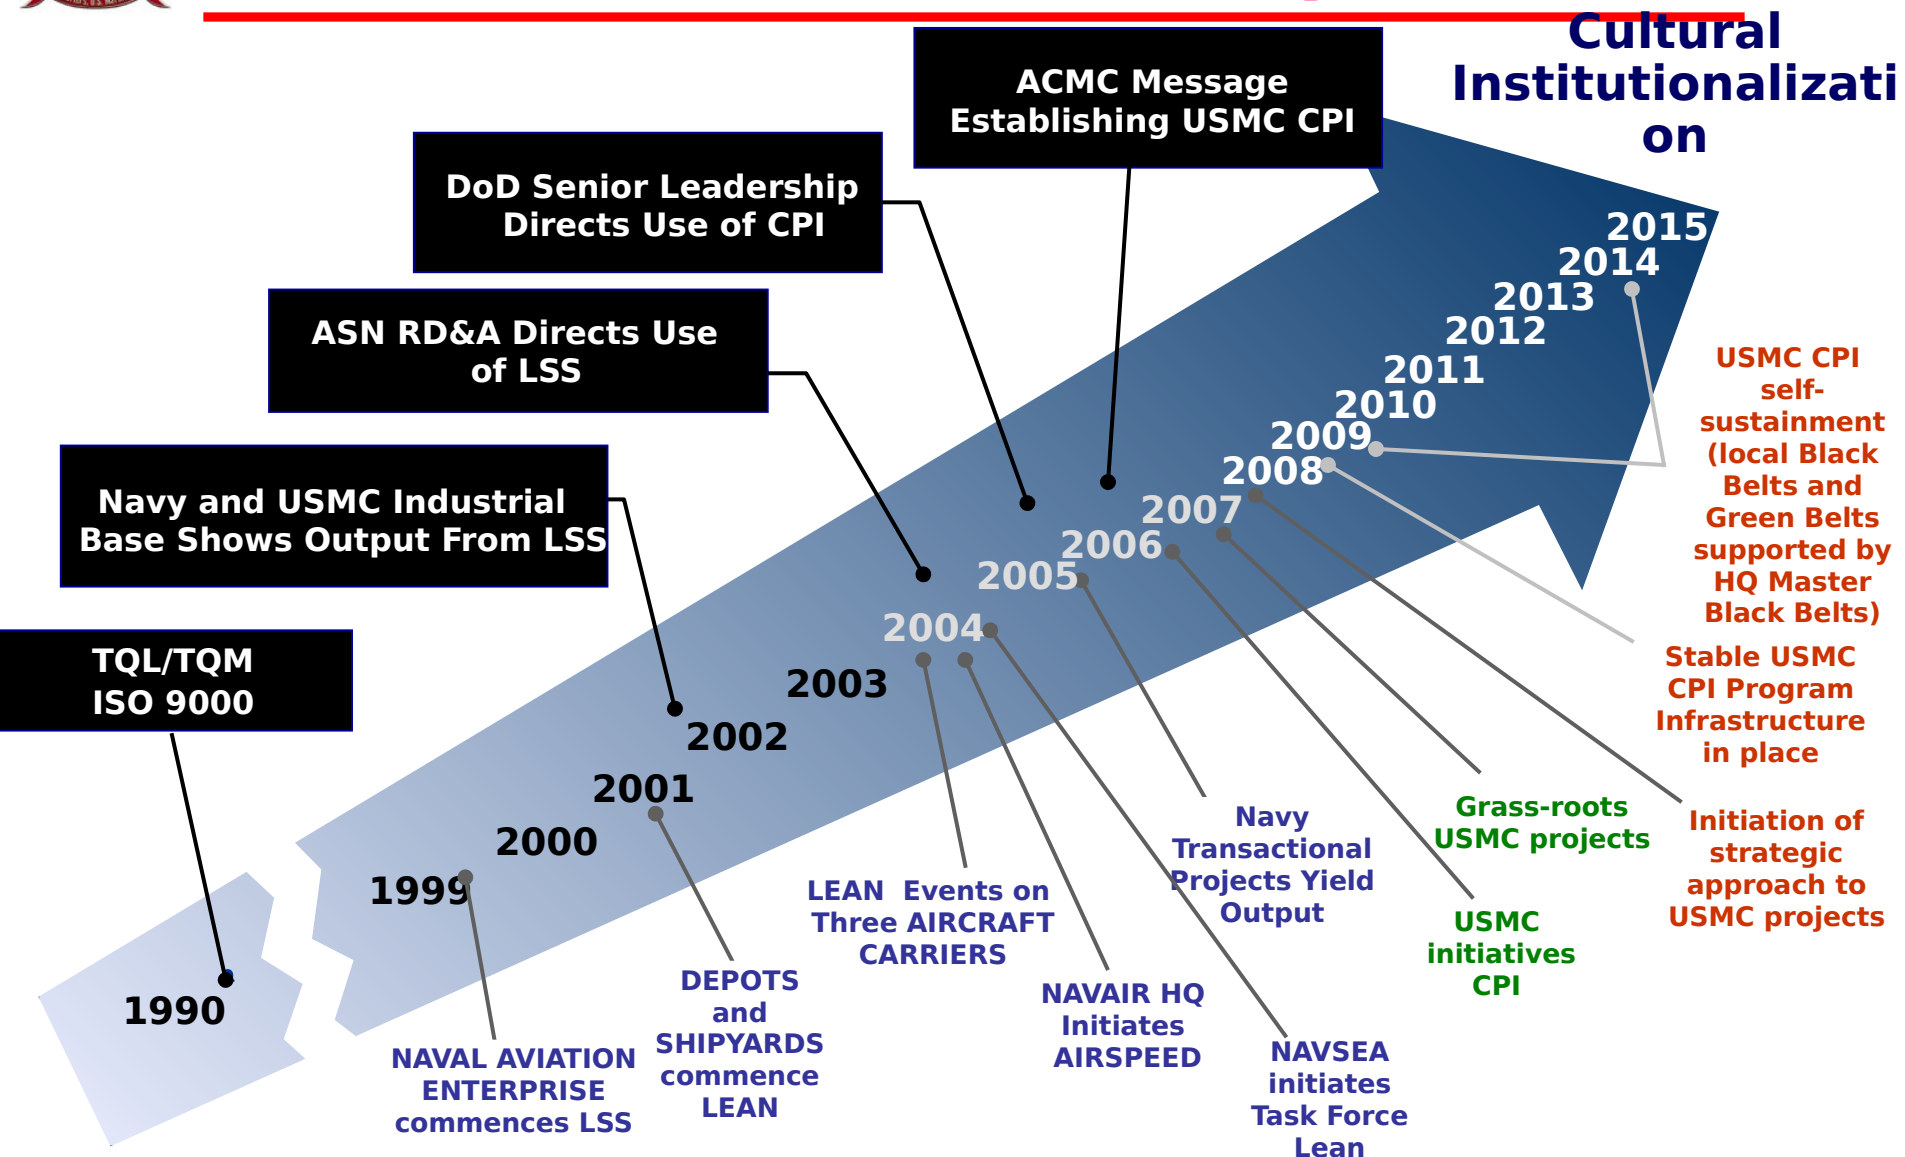

CPI Makes a Difference

- Reduced Urgent UNS process in CD&I from 131 days to 58
- Reduced AAV repair line at Barstow from 140 days to 125, defects by 40%, and reduced costs
- Increased marine MRAP final outfitting from 5 per day to 50 at Charleston
- Projected a savings of over a million dollars a year at Parris Island by redesigning the clothing inventory process
- Reduced cell phone costs in Hawaii by 72%

CPI Is Part of Our Culture

Innovation has always been a key component of Marine Corps tradition and our style of leadership...

Leaders should make it their duty to bring subordinates' ideas to the surface ...and protect them when innovation fails or mistakes are made.

A-76

- Determines the most cost effective provider for commercial services through direct competition
- Competes In-House Workforce vs. Contract
 - Work requirements set by Commander and Chain-of-Command
- Competition works
 - Historically 30% savings from competition - validated
 - Post award annual assessments indicates acceptable performance
- Other Benefits
 - Frees other resources (Marines) - one battalion since 2002
 - Documents requirements
 - Establishes and maintains cost control and discipline

NDAA Changes

- FY08 National Defense Authorization Act

- OMB may not dictate use of A-76 for a DoD activity
- A Military Department is no longer required to re-compete a function at the end of its performance period
- A contractor may not receive a competitive advantage due to lower Health and Retirement Benefits*
- New or contracted work may be brought back in-house without A-76, provided it is justified by an economic analysis

* Potentially reduces competition

NDAA Changes (Cont.)

- FY09 NDAA (HAC & SAC Markups)
 - Plan a moratorium on A-76
 - Sense of Congress is driving the issue
 - Employee unions lobbied for change
 - Presidential election year causes a wait-and-see attitude
 - GWOT impacts on military demand relaxation of competitions

UNCLASSIFIED

Now what?

- How do we maintain the successes you have achieved and continue to improve performance?
- Options
 - A-76 competitions
 - Convert to HPOs (BPR, CPI and Lean Six Sigma are management tools that can result in HPOs)
 - Continue existing MEOs
- Requirements for any initiative
 - Establish and maintain requirements document
 - Establish baseline (cost and performance)
 - Identify/Implement process improvements
 - Validate/Monitor results

Define
Measure
Analyze
Implement
Control

High Performing Organizations (HPOs)

- Requirement document is required
 - PWS-like document
 - Baseline cost and performance established
- Business Process Re-engineering (BPR)
 - Lean Six Sigma process (DMAIC)
 - Draft DoD HPO guidance establishes the program
 - Alternative to A-76
- Performance accountability
 - Letter of Obligation (LOO) is a promise to perform
 - Annual Assessment (report) - Tracked via DCAMIS (OSD visibility)
- HPO plans shown on PB42 and credit toward overall accomplishment of the current President's Management Agenda

USMC can determine these requirements, "credit" is secondary

OUR GREATEST RESPONSIBILITY IS TO BE GOOD ANCESTORS.
